ARRESTS JONES AS SUSPECTED BURGLAR

After several hours of sweating, in which the Ogden police department was assisted by Detectives Golden and Wilson of Salt Lake, it was decided that there was enough evidence to justify the Salt Lake officers in taking back with them Charles Jones, the suspected crook who was taken into custody yesterday with two companions by Officers Chambers and Kelliher.

It was also decided, as a result of the investigation, to release the other two men, who gave the names of Henry Grady and Charles Taylor when arrested.

The men were suspected of having been implicated in the burglary of the State Street Hardware store in Salt Lake on Wednesday night, in which twelve dozen pocket knives, three revolvers and several razors and other articles were stolen.

The Salt Lake police had notified the local department to be on the lookout for suspects in connection with the burglary, and yesterday afternoon it was quietly tipped off to Officers Chambers and Kelliher that a man had just pawned a revolver in a local pawn shop. This man was soon apprehended, together with a companion, giving the names of Henry Grady and Charles Taylor.

Took Him Along Too.
On the way to the station Officer Chambers noticed a stranger pass the prisoners and apparently eye them with some degree of recognition. Acting upon his suspicions the officer directed that the third man also be taken into custody. The latter was booked under the name of Charles Jones, and two revolvers were found upon his person, which he claimed he had brought from the east.

The men were separated at the station and examined closely regarding their business in the city, with the result that several contradictory stories were told, but which agreed to the end that Jones was the possessor of three guns and that he had given one to Grady to pawn for him.

Jones repeatedly contradicted himself regarding his presence in Salt Lake, but weakened when a pawn ticket from that city was found upon his person, and he finally admitted that he had been there. It was later decided that there was not enough evidence connecting Grady and Taylor with the burglary to justify holding them, but Jones was apparently involved enough to demand his being taken to Salt Lake for the filing of charges.
